Melinda (Mindy) Braithwaite

October 29, 2009

WGBH today announced the appointment of Melinda Braithwaite as the public broadcaster's Vice President of Human Resources.

In her new role, Braithwaite will oversee WGBH's comprehensive Human Resources operations, a role critical to the continued success of the Foundation's educational mission. "We're delighted to have Mindy join our senior management team," said Ben Godley, Executive Vice President, WGBH, to whom she will report. "She's adept at alignment and Mindy will certainly be an asset for WGBH."

My sister, Margaret "Peggy" Moriah Kemmen (Kanavy), 43, of Scranton died Tuesday, Jan. 13, 2009, in an accident in Smithfield, North Carolina.

A 1983 graduate of Scranton Preparatory School, Peggy earned a bachelors degree in Communications from The University of Scranton in 1988. She taught at Red Cloud Indian School and the University of Scranton. As a college instructor, she taught various subjects including: marketing, and advertising, computer science, logic, English and math. She also served as a corporate Peggy loved God, nature and others completely and with the innocence of a child, inspiring that love in others. She found wonder in God's creation from the simple perfection of birds and flowers to the complexity of life with others.

When she invested herself in a job or a cause, she did so with contagious zeal. She would quickly get to know something or someone down to the core, leaving you to watch and wonder at the experience among the Oglala Sioux at the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation - a place she considered home.

Her life was marked by great devotion to serving others, to promoting justice and to speaking out for the oppressed and marginalized. She was a communicator and a teacher, masterful

Anyone who experienced Peggy's personality, wit, fervor and friendship would never forget her.
